Mayor's Corner—Our Public Works Department Rocks

This issue, I'm doing something a little different and writing about a very special group here at the City of Lake Forest Park. That group is the City's Public Works Department—Frank, the Public Works Director; Scott, the Public Works Superintendent; Cassandra, the Public Works Administrative Assistant; and, above all, the crew that works in the field—Keith, Ian, Adam, Chuck, Marty, and Matt.

As we all know, our area received record snowfall during February that greatly affected the drivability of the City's roadways for residents, emergency responders, and public services like garbage collection. During the first half of February, the Public Works crew worked around the clock 12-hour shifts to plow snow and ice from over 100 lane miles of roadway, including the two state highways that run through our community. In addition to clearing snow and ice, the Public Works Department also removed trees blocking roads and coordinated with tree and utility companies to get power restored to the community.

We were also made safer during this time by everyone pitching in and staying home whenever possible. Fewer cars on the road meant fewer potential accidents and injuries.

Fewer accidents

meant fewer public safety calls, which let our Police Department respond to other calls. I appreciate everyone's patience and doing his or her part to help.

My deepest thanks to these fine employees for serving the public with tremendous dedication and spirit throughout the year and especially during Snowmageddon 2019.

— Mayor Johnson

Plowing and More Plowing

Land Use Code Updates for 2019

Shoreline Master Program Update—The City is conducting a periodic review of its Shoreline Master Program (SMP) this year, as required by the Washington State Shoreline Management Act. The City adopted its current SMP in May 2013. The focus of this periodic review is on consistency with changes to state law made since its adoption. The review will also address consistency with the City's comprehensive plan and development regulations, and overall usability of the SMP.

The City is also reviewing City code provisions related to signs and small wireless communication facilities and will be introducing code updates relating to these subjects for Planning Commission and City Council review later this year.

Wireless Communications—A recent Federal Communications Commission (FCC) order took effect this year, which limits cities' ability to regulate small wireless facilities. Small wireless facilities are defined as structures/antenna(e) that are less than 50 feet tall, no more than 10 percent taller than surrounding structures, and, other than the antenna, have a cumulative volume of no more than 28 cubic feet.

Signs—City sign regulations were the subject of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Reed v. Town of Gilbert. The decision addressed regulation of temporary directional signs, but its ramifications go beyond just that one category of sign regulation. The primary takeaways of the Reed case are that local sign regulations must be content-neutral and that a sign code will be subject to scrutiny if it applies different standards based on a sign's content (i.e., what is written or portrayed on the sign); the purpose of the sign; or who is putting up the sign.

LFP Joins 25+ Washington Cities and Counties in Single-Use Plastics Ban

Over the past several years, the Lake Forest Park City Council received requests from the community to implement a ban on plastic bags. In May 2018, the Council began discussing the possibility of a ban on single-use plastics. On September 13, 2018, following additional Council discussion, a public hearing, and feedback from the community, the City Council joined at least 25 other cities and counties in the state in adopting legislation which restricts the use and sale of single-use plastic bags. The Washington state legislature is currently considering bills relating to responsible management of plastic packaging and minimum state standards for the use of plastic bags at retail establishments.

The LFP regulations, which went into effect on January 23, 2019, go beyond bags and include a prohibition on non-compostable food service containers, straws, lids, and utensils.

What does this mean to you when shopping or dining in Lake Forest Park? Retailers can still provide carryout bags, but they need to be reusable or compostable, and paper bags must be both recyclable and compostable. Retailers are required to charge a $.10 per bag pass-through fee for paper carryout bags.

Food providers in the City limits must only use compostable food service containers, straws, lids, and utensils for take-out orders and leftovers. There is an exception for disposable flexible plastic drinking straws when needed by customers due to medical or physical conditions and for whom flexible compostable paper straws are unsuitable.

The City has been working with those retailers and food service providers who have submitted a request for an extension to comply with the regulations.

Stop by City Hall for a free reusable bag or two, while supplies last.

Save Money on Your Passport—Apply Early

Avoid paying the additional $60 expedite fee! Applicants are encouraged to apply well ahead of their planned travel dates to ensure they get their passports in time before traveling. Routine processing time is 4-6 weeks and expedited service is 2-3 weeks. The REAL ID Act identification card is progressing to one of its final phases of compliance. The State of Washington received an extension to continue its preparation for the final implementation of the law on October 2020. After that date, a standard Washington state driver's license will no longer be adequate identification for domestic travel at airports. For more information, visit www.travel.state.gov or call 206-957-2834.

Vegetation Management in the Right-of-Way

The recent storms brought to light many examples of vegetation from private property that encroached into the right-of-way—affecting the City's ability to plow and creating sightline hazards for those who chose to keep their cars off the roads and walk instead. Please help us and your neighbors by keeping trees and shrubs trimmed to 12 feet above the walkway and street surface so the community can enjoy the walkways and have a clear sightline of traffic.

Pet Waste—Bag It and Trash It

Who doesn't enjoy a walk through a park or on a trail? We live in one of the most scenic parts of the country, with our forested landscape, rivers, lakes, and Puget Sound. How can we not be in awe of the beauty of nature that surrounds us? Yet, some of these picturesque spaces are diminished by waste deposits left behind by our pets. The water quality of our rivers, lakes, and Puget Sound is impacted when fecal matter (possibly containing pathogens) is left on the ground and gets into our waterways via storm water. Rainwater has the potential to wash pet waste deposits into our natural waterways and generate harmful levels of fecal coliform, making them unsafe for recreational use.

So, be conscious of the environment and others around you, and pick up after your pet. Bag the waste and trash it for proper disposal.
