Mayor's Corner— Putting the Lake in Lake Forest Park

At the end of last year, the City jumped on a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to put the Lake in Lake Forest Park, by entering into a Memorandum of Agreement for acquisition of two lots, commonly known as the Lake Haven property, located next to the City's Lyon Creek Waterfront Preserve. The City's vision for this property in the coming years includes picnic facilities, swimming, kayaking, and canoeing. While the purchase and sale is anticipated to go through in December 2021, planning for the property improvements will begin in 2021 and continue over the next couple of years, with construction to follow later.

Over the past two years, the City added nine acres of parkland to its inventory, through the acquisition of 5 Acre Woods, Brookside Park, and the Lake Haven waterfront property. I want to make sure that any LFP resident who wants to enjoy a park can do it without leaving town.

Switching gears to talk for a moment about the upcoming budget season, with the passage of I-976 in November 2019, the City faces a stark reality in terms of what remains of its budget for street repair and maintenance: half of the funding is no longer available. The upcoming budget season (2021-2022 Biennial Budget) will be a difficult time for decision makers, as decisions will need to be made on how to maintain our streets and take care of the beautiful parks we've acquired over the last two years.

We have a busy year ahead!

Town Center Code Update

The Planning Commission has begun making recommendations to the Council on portions of the Town Center Code Update. On February 11, 2020, the Commission held a public hearing on the draft regulations for stand-alone parking structures in the Town Center. Around 50 people attended the hearing and 27 individuals provided verbal comments. The audio recording of the hearing is available on the Town Center Process page of the City website (<https://www.cityoflfp.com/593/Town-Center-Process>).

Some of the major themes of the public comments included extending the moratorium on development in the Town Center that began last fall, removing the provision allowing up to 700 residential units from the draft amendments, and keeping the public involved in the development review process for Town Center projects. Now that the Commission has completed review of the stand-alone parking structure regulations and guidelines, their focus will be on the regulations and guidelines that apply to all types of development in the Town Center.

Council Update – Deputy Mayor Phillipa Kassover

As well as serving on the LFP City Council, your elected councilmembers serve on several regional committees, which address issues of importance to area residents, such as transportation, water quality, salmon recovery, public health and solid waste disposal. Over the coming months, councilmembers will describe their work on these committees.

I have represented the City on the Metropolitan Solid Waste Advisory Committee, advising the King County Solid Waste Division, and represented the Sound Cities Association on the Solid Waste Advisory Committee, advising the King County Council. Over the past few years, these committees helped write a new Comprehensive Plan for the division. The big issues were the future of the county landfill at Cedar Hills and the changing recycling markets. We established a goal of recycling or composting 70% of the waste stream to recapture valuable resources and maximize the life of the landfill. We also asked the County to do further study of the two options once the landfill is at capacity: send the waste to landfills in Eastern Washington or Oregon via train; or, build a waste-to-energy plant to incinerate the garbage and create electricity. Both options are still under review.

I was also appointed to serve on the Responsible Recycling Task Force, which has helped generate legislation now under consideration by the State Legislature, including reducing use of single use plastics, encouraging more producer responsibility for products and packaging, and increasing the amount of recycled materials in plastic products.

If you have comments or questions about these committees, please contact me at pkassover@cityoflfp.com.

Car Wash Tips to Help Our Surface Water Runoff Keep Our Waterways Clean

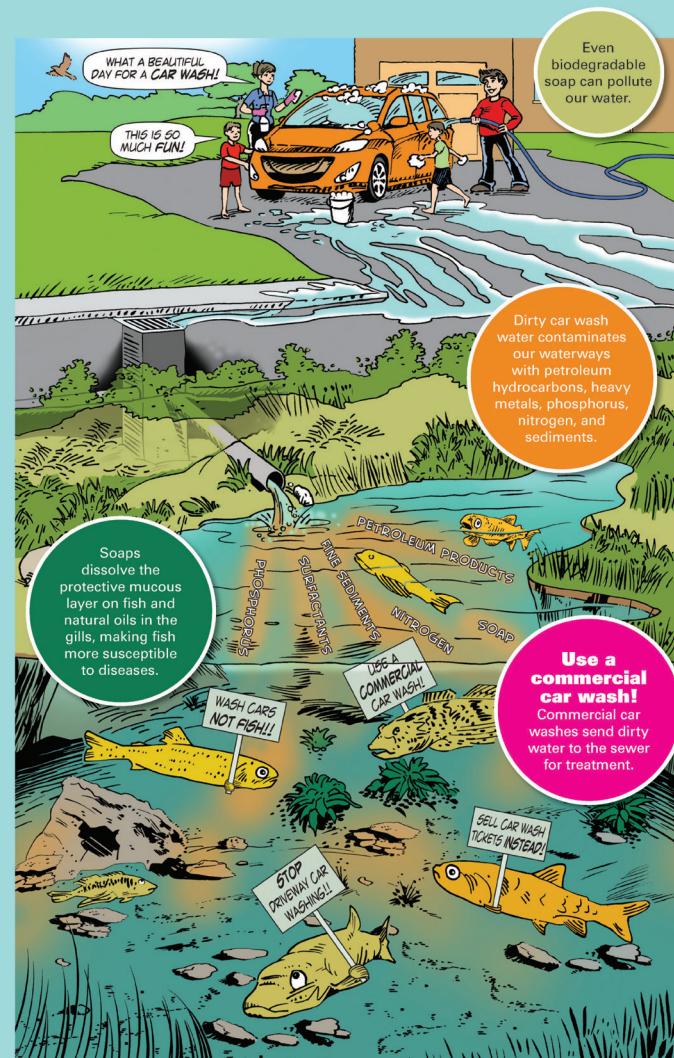

We all enjoy a shiny clean car, but did you know there is no filtration system between you and your storm drains? Everything done on streets, parking lots, and at home goes straight down the storm drain and dumps into the nearest outlet of a stream, Lake Washington, or Puget Sound. Home car washing can use excessive amounts of water and sends a lot of pollutants like oils, heavy metals, detergents, soaps, and grime into the storm drains.

The great news is there are ways you can help! The best way is to use a commercial carwash. They are required to send their soapy, dirty, grimy water to the same wastewater system that our showers, sinks, and toilets go to for treatment to be cleaned. If you cannot make it to a carwash, it is best to divert your dirty wash water to grass, soil, or gravel and not your driveway or concrete. Grass, soil, and gravel can help filter the dirty water so not all the harmful pollutants are entering a stream, Lake Washington, or Puget Sound.

Remember: Puget Sound Starts Here!

A Clean Ride Shouldn't Lead to Dirty Water

The REAL ID Act Takes Effect in October – Are You Ready?

If you travel regularly, even if just within the United States, there are some changes to ID standards happening later this year, when the REAL ID act takes effect on October 1, 2020. On or after October 1, a standard Washington State driver's license or identification card will no longer work as ID for traveling on domestic flights.

What is REAL ID? Congress passed the REAL ID Act in 2005. The act established minimum security standards for state-issued driver licenses and ID cards. Starting October 1, 2020 anyone wishing to board an airplane or access certain federal facilities will be required to present a REAL ID compliant license or ID card.

Don't worry, you may already have what you need. REAL ID is a law, not an actual piece of ID. Per the law, there are many pieces of existing identification options that will work, including:

- Permanent Resident Card (Green Card)
- U.S. Military ID
- U.S. Passport Book
- U.S. Passport Card
- Foreign Passport
- U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services Employment Authorization Card (I-766)
- Federally recognized, tribal-issued photo ID
- Enhanced Driver License (EDL)
- Enhanced Identification Card (EID)

See the full list of ID documents accepted for air travel at: <https://www.tsa.gov/travel/security-screening/identification>

If you want to apply for a U.S. Passport Book or U.S. Passport Card, the City of Lake Forest Park offers passport application services on Mondays, Thursdays, and Fridays, from noon to 4:00 p.m.; and Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Check the passport page on our website for information about fees, what documents to bring, etc.: <https://www.cityoflfp.com/124/Passports>
